Description:

Le Défilé (2016) takes place on the beach of Grand Bassam where street vendors sell their merchandise to tourists. But the sound of their voices, covered by the one of the sea, does not reach the tourists' ears who are securely watching behind the blue fence, alongside the camera. Stuck between a horizonless sea and the blue fence, these vendors who come from different countries in Africa keep on parading. But how fragile is the fence? A crack splits the side of a beam. Could it fall at any time?
