Architectures of intimidation, 2017

Marco Godoy
Architectures of intimidation , 2017
metal 100x74cm
Unique artwork
courtesy Galerie Dix9 Hélène Lacharmoise

Description:
Architectures of intimidation, is a series of sculptures made from different models of spikes, dated from the 50´s to the ones used nowadays.
For the installation, the spikes are transformed into vertical sculptures, totems form by the tipologies of fences.
The series is compouse by a pastel colour series, an aluminium series and a dark colour series. These can be arrange individually or in groups, the shape and the size is adapted to the context where they are displayed.
Materials are steel, iron, and long lasting weather proof plastic. All covered with a coat of paint for extra protection.
The size of the individual pieces vary between 1.2m and 2 meters tall.

Exhibitions:
solo show "The distance between us" at Sala de Arte Joven de la Comunidad de Madrid, Spain 2018